SPUNGE AT THE LANTERNS

Almost legendary ska punk band SPUNGE play at the Lanterns in Folkestone on Friday November 10th as part of their latest tour with support from MORE THAN NORMAL and 3dBs DOWN.

Tickets are £10 and available from the Lanterns itself in Rendezvous Street (01303 259634) or from the Louis Armstrong in Dover.

Before then, MORE THAN NORMAL join SPUNGE for dates at the Winter Gardens in Cleethorpes on Thursday November 2nd, the Twist in Colchester on Friday November 3rd, the Furnace in Swindon on Saturday November 4th, the University of Bedfordshire in Luton on Monday November 6th, the University of Hertfordshire in Hatfield on Tuesday November 7th, Remedies Bar in Paignton on Wednesday November 8th and Joiners in Southampton on Saturday November 11th.

3dBs DOWN also play at the Victoria Inn, Derby on Wednesday November 1st, Satan's Hollow in Manchester on Thursday November and Barfly in Camden on Friday November 3rd.

LAST GIG AT THE BEER CART ARMS

2Tone Promotions are having to leave the Beer Cart Arms in Canterbury again due to problems with the local council and noise levels. Their excellently-run Tuesday night gigs have been an integral part of the local alternative scene in recent years.

But they are going out in style on Tuesday November 14th with the return of Switzerland punkabilly trio THE PEACOCKS, arguably the best live band out there at the moment. And two supports are quality too .... LOS SALVADORES and 7 DAY CONSPIRACY. File under unmissable..

HEAVY MENTAL ON TOUR

Chicago-based band HEAVY MENTAL return for a Kent tour, with the main support coming from Maidstone's ONE DAY ELLIOTT.

HEAVY MENTAL play a funky rocky hippy style of music with socio-political themes that dig at the superficiality of much modern day American lifestyle and gung-ho leadership. The band are very talented musicians with Wayne and his finger-pick guitar style, Dave B with his jazz funk bass playing and Dave K with his marching band type drumming. The band is fronted by Sara, a true hippy chick who is also a fine singer-songwriter and pianist with her own side projects. The band is one of the leading lights in the Chicago alt music scene and had a great time when they last visited Kent in 2003. They have just released an album - "Escape From the Dummy Culture" - which will be available from the band at the gigs.

The dates are Homelands at Ashford Town FC on Friday November 10th (with SHOTGUN JUNKY and RED LIGHT RUNNER), Bonds in Sheerness on Saturday November 11th (with ONE DAY ELLIOTT, MANTORA, MAPLE STREET, SEVEN YEAR KISMET, CURSED AS ANGELS and LIFE SENTENCE), Drakes in Maidstone on Sunday November 12th (with ONE DAY ELLIOTT and 2 DAYS AWAY), Tap 'n' Tin in Chatham on Thursday November 16th (with ONE DAY ELLIOTT, LOS SALVADORES and PADDY JONES), Wyvern Hall in Sittingbourne on Friday November 17th (with ONE DAY ELLIOTT, LIFE SENTENCE, SEVEN YEAR KISMET and KOBRAKAI), Red lion in Northfleet on Saturday November 18th (with ONE DAY ELLIOTT and ENDLESS SUMMER); Red Lion in Baddlesmere on Sunday November 19th (with ONE DAY ELLIOTT and ELECTRIC RIVER); Rock Matrix in Dartford on Tuesday November 21st (with ONE DAY ELLIOTT and WAKE UP DEAD), Harriets in Margate on Thursday November 23rd (with ONE DAY ELLIOTT and SHIBBY); and the Oast House in Rainham on Saturday November 25th (with ONE DAY ELLIOTT and LOS SALVADORES).

LONE STAR COMEDY CLUB

The Lone Star Comedy Club returns to the Lanterns in Folkestone on Saturday November 18th with NOEL JAMES, JULIET MEYERS and guest compere ADRIAN POYNTON.

NOEL JAMES returns after first appearing during the club's opening year in 2004. His credits are too numerous to list in full so he was asked to write his own biography to give you an idea how this bizarre man's brain ticks.

"My name is Infact Noel James, although I never pronounce the Infact ...". These are the first words of Infact Noel James' act - an act which confounds even his closest psychopathic hangers-on. For eight years Noel has performed comedy throughout the UK. He does it for a living and has performed at all the major clubs and festivals: Glastonbury, Reading and Edinburgh to name but three. Before entering showbiz, old Noel tried his hand at teaching. Without much success, he taught English as a foreign language: he taught it as Welsh! WELSH - Old English translation meaning 'Foreign'. The above definition gains significance when you perceive his lilting delivery. Not only does it have totally tropical taste and perfect timing but indeed it stems from his mouth which has its dark origins firmly rooted in that far-off land called Wales. As you will see, the rest of his body has no fixed abode but it's amazing what a transplant operation can do.

But not for him the comedy of stereotyping - he finds it all too easy. Well, he is a Capricorn (near the Sagittarius end which makes him a Saggycorn) - his act is gag, gag, gag all the way - though some of it consists of non-baby talk. Above all, his act is highly original; the guy who wrote it assured him of this. Surreal, bizarre, absurd, intelligent, and yet, somehow strangely attractive. No, seriously he is a very accessible act who generally goes down well anywhere. TV credits include Packing Them in (Channel 4), The Stand-up Show (BBC) and Giamocs (S4C). The last one you may not have heard of. It was a Welsh language Show which Noel co-wrote and starred in and it got nominated for the Rose of Montreaux (and that's true). He's also done a bit of serious acting, and as for music! Well, what he does is throw in a bit of guitar playing and singing, of a sort, as well as a few prop gags. This man is so spontaneous he'd combust if it didn't ruin his shirt! He's really funny.

JULIET MEYERS started doping stand-up in 2000 and has appeared at big London clubs such as the Comedy Store and appeared at the Edinburgh Festival. She part wrote and performed the sketch show 'Bouncy Castle' at Hackney in 2003 and has also compered at various shows.

ADRIAN POYNTON is the only stand up to perform on the BBC's Football Focus. He stumbled across stand-up comedy in mid 1999 and already an accomplished actor he started to experiment with this new medium. Within months he was a finalist in the Daily Telegraph Open Mic Award and the Jongleurs best new act award. This was followed by the Hackney Empire Best New act Award and his aforementioned appearance on Football Focus (to this day he is still not sure how it happened because what Adrian knows about football could be written on the back of a stamp).

Adrian has now carved a name for himself as a much sought-after live performer, performing at all of the country's major comedy venues including The Comedy Store, The Glee Club and Up The Creek. His engaging and fun style mixes freeform spontaneity with a writer's eye for detail in original and hilarious storytelling.

It is this off the cuff style backed up with well honed material that has made Adrian such a hit in clubs across the country. He is truly in his element as a compere, bringing infectious warmth and laughter to even the most stone faced of crowds.

Adrian is also an award-winning writer. In 2000, he won the 'Fuji Film New Writers Award' for his short film 'The Voice of God' and in 2003 a Fringe First award for his play 'A Very Naughty Boy'. Working for Disney UK, Adrian wrote several episodes of the shows 'The Spooky Sisters', 'Good Morning Raoul' and 'Raoul Summer Camp'. He now has several projects including a sitcom in development with 'Tiger Aspect Productions'.
